CAPT. P. H. WALLACE.

Well Known Paducah Citizen Dies of Apoplexy.

Capt. Philip H. Wallace died at Paducah Tuesday, falling dead of apoplexy.

Mr. Wallace was a native of Christian county and was aged 71 years the 15th of last February. He was a son of Dr. James B. and Sarah (Clayton) Wallace, both of whom were Virginians by birth. He lived in his native county till about 23 years of age when he moved to Paducah, and after the war he resided on his farm in this county. He studied law at Hopkinsville, and at the opening of the civil war he was county clerk of McCracken county. In 1861 he enlisted and was given a position on the staff of Gen. Pat Claybourne, with whom he served three years, serving during the last year of the war with Col. B. D. Lee, who commanded an independent regiment. Since the war Captain Wallace gave his attention more to farming, and for years lived at the beautiful place now known as La-Belle park, only removing to the city to make his home with his son and only child, Mr. George C. Wallace, some years since.

Mr. Wallace was united in marriage with Miss Nannie Woolfolk, a daughter of Col. George Woolfolk, who laid off Paducah, and Catherine (Gwathney) Woolfolk, a niece, of Gen. George Rogers Clark, to whom the land was granted on which Paducah stands. His wife and the son named and a sister, Miss Sallie Wallace, of Hopkinsville, are the only immediate members of the family left, though there are many relatives to sorrow with them. —Paducah News.

A Minister's Good Work.

"I had a severe attack of bilious colic, got a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, took two doses and was entirely cured," says Rev. A. A. Power, of Emporia, Kan. "My neighbor across the street was sick for over a week, he had two or three bottles of medicine from the doctor. He used them for three or four days without relief, then called in another doctor who treated him for some days and gave him no relief, so discharged him. I went over to see him the next morning. He said his bowels were in a terrible fix, that they had been running off so long that it was almost bloody flux. I asked him if he had tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and he said, 'No.' I went home and brought him my bottle and gave him one dose; told him to take another dose in fifteen or twenty minutes if he did not find relief, but he took no more and was entirely cured. I think it the best medicine I have ever tried." For sale by all druggists.
